

PURE BLOOD MAKES HEALTHY PEOPLE

Hood's Sarsaparilla removes scrofula sores, boils and other eruptions, because it drives out of the blood the humors that cause them. Eruptions cannot be successfully treated with external applications, because these cannot purify the blood.

Hood's Sarsaparilla makes rich, red blood, perfects the digestion, and builds up the whole system. Insist on having Hood's. Get it now.

BEGIN HOT WATER DRINKING IF YOU DON'T FEEL RIGHT

Says "glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast washes out poisons."

If you wake up with a bad taste, bad breath and tongue is coated; if your head is dull or aching; if what you eat scours and forms gas and acid in stomach, or you are bilious, constipated, nervous, sallow and can't get feeling just right, begin inside bathing. Drink before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will flush the kidneys and bowels from stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and cleanse, sweeten and purify the entire alimentary tract. Do your inside bathing immediately upon arising in the morning to wash out of the system all the previous day's poisonous waste, gases and sour bile before putting more food into the stomach.

To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became loaded with body impurities, get from your pharmacist a quarter pound of limestone phosphate which is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except for a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant.

Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and freshening, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Men and women who are usually constipated, bilious, headachy or have any stomach disorder should begin this inside bathing before breakfast. They are assured they will become real cranks on the subject shortly.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON RESOLUTIONS

Among all the film actors playing historical characters in "The Birth of a Nation" spectacle to be seen at the Guthrie Theatre for 3 nights beginning Friday, October 13th, matinee Saturday and Sunday, Howard Gaye and Donald Crisp have received the most compliments on the faithfulness of their work, the one as General Lee and the other as General Grant.

The picture shows General Lee surrendering to General Grant in the Wilmer-McLean mansion at Appomattox Court House, Va., April 9, 1865. It is a most faithful reproduction of all the personages in the great historic scene and of the minute details of the action.

It is well known that many supporters of the defeated confederacy wished to prolong the struggle by means of a guerilla warfare similar to that used by the Boers towards the close of the Anglo-Boer war. In fact John Wilkes Booth supposed that in killing President Lincoln he would have the support of the South in a new struggle. But General Lee was of a different temper. He realized that the South had been beaten in a fair struggle on the fields of battle and that prolonging the fighting would merely add to the horrors and misery endured by his people. Therefore, after the battle of Five Forks he opened negotiations with Grant and on the morning of April 9th under the budding apple trees of an Appomattox orchard were determined the terms of peace which were formally written down at the Wilmer-McLean house in the afternoon.

Lee had dressed for his last public occasion with great care. Grant on the contrary lacked his full dress and appeared in the "fatigue" and dusty jack boots of the hard campaign. Strangely enough General Lee had no pencil to write with. A pocket inkstand and pen were lent by an officer of the general staff, and it was with these that the historic document of surrender was written. Afterwards an effort was made to arrest and detain Lee for treason but Grant, who knew Lee's nobility of character and how he had faithful to the letter all the surrender obligations, prevented any such disgraceful sequel to the great event.

DEATH BY LIGHTNING, HELD TO BE ACCIDENT UNDER COMPENSATION LAW

Pittsburgh, Pa. Oct. 9.—Mary Tomazek of this city, as the result of a decision of the Workmen's Compensation board, which makes death from lightning an accident, will receive 45 per cent of her husband's weekly wage for 260 weeks, or until May 3, 1922, and after that a minor son shall receive 15 per cent of the weekly wage each week until November 25, 1929, when he will be 16 years old.

The decision was made by the board in the claim for compensation by the woman for the death of her husband, who was killed by a stroke of lightning while at work for the Carnegie Steel company.

The claim, when filed, opened up a new matter for decision by the board. After quoting decisions in similar cases in other states, the decision of the board concludes with the following:

"There is no question but that the death or injury by lightning constitutes an accident. We are not compelled to consider the question as to whether or not a given injury arose out of the nature of the employment, because of the fact that our law has not adopted these words, but rather confines our inquiry solely to whether or not the employee at the time of his injury was in the course of his employment for the master."

"These facts are admitted of record in this case, so that we only have to turn to Section 391, Article III of the Pennsylvania compensation act of 1915. The facts admitted bring this case within the provisions of that section which provides that the employer shall pay 'compensation for personal injury to, or for the death of, such employee by an accident, in the course of his employment without regard to negligence, according to the schedule contained in Sections 396 and 397.'"

FATIMA

A Sensible Cigarette

Such men want comfort AFTER smoking

IT'S NOTICEABLE that more and more substantial men are choosing Fatimas for their steady smoke. There must be some reason for it. Surely, these men would quickly pay a far higher price for another cigarette if it suited them better.

That is just it. No other cigarette can quite give what Fatimas give.

Some other cigarettes taste good, yes. But Fatimas do more—they are comfortable. Not only are they comfortable to the throat and tongue while you smoke them, but, much more important, they leave a man feeling keen and "fit" AFTER smoking, even though he smokes more than usual.
